

Mica Chosen as Top Republican on Transportation

Yesterday the Republican Steering Committee chose Representative Jon Mica (R-FL) to be the ranking Republican on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee. Mica has served on the committee for 14 years and is the current chair of the Aviation Subcommittee.

Mica main priority will be to work with the Administration and Congress to set national transportation priorities. According to Mica, "With record levels of traffic congestion and delays experienced by travelers today, we must continue to invest in our nation's transportation systems to expand our economy and build our nation's aging infrastructure. I look forward to working with the public and private sector to achieve these goals."
